"Comparable treasury price" means, with respect to any redemption date, (i) the average of at least three reference treasury dealer quotations for that redemption date, after excluding the highest and lowest of five or more reference treasury dealer quotations, or (ii) if the Trustee obtains fewer than five reference dealer quotations, the average of all reference treasury dealer quotations so obtained.

"Reference treasury dealer quotations" means, with respect to each reference treasury dealer and any redemption date, the average, as determined by 3M Company, of the bid and asked prices for the comparable

“Treasury rate” means, with respect to any redemption date, the annual rate equal to the semi-annual equivalent yield to maturity of the comparable treasury issue, assuming a price of the comparable treasury issue (expressed as a percentage of its principal amount) equal to the comparable treasury price for that redemption date.

In the case of a partial redemption of the 2.750% Notes due 2022, the 3.250% Notes due 2024, the 3.375% Notes due 2029 or the 4.000% Notes due 2048, selection of the notes for redemption will be made pro rata, if commercially practicable in accordance with the procedures of DTC or the relevant depository, and if not, then by lot or such other method as required in accordance with the procedures of DTC or the relevant depository. Notice of any redemption will be mailed by first class mail at least 30 days but not more than 60 days before the redemption date to each holder of the notes to be redeemed at its registered address. If any notes are to be redeemed in part only, the notice of redemption that relates to such notes will state the portion of such notes to be redeemed. New notes in principal amounts of at least $2,000 equal to the unredeemed portion of the notes will be issued in the name of the holder of the notes upon surrender for cancellation of the original notes. Unless 3M Company defaults in payment of the redemption price, on and after the redemption date, interest will cease to accrue on the notes or the portions of the notes called for redemption.

Supplemental Information Concerning Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations

This section describes the supplemental material federal income tax consequences of acquiring the 3.250% Notes due 2024 and the 4.000% Notes due 2048 offered hereby (the “reopened notes”). For a complete description of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of acquiring and owning the reopened notes, the 2.750% Notes due 2022 and the 3.375% Notes due 2029, please see the discussion under “Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations” in the accompanying prospectus supplement.

Qualified Reopening and Issue Price of the Reopened Notes

The reopened notes offered hereby will be treated as a part of the same issue of the previously issued 3.250% Notes Due 2024 and the previously issued 4.000% Notes Due 2048 (the “existing notes”) pursuant to a “qualified reopening” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Therefore, the reopened notes offered hereby will be treated as having the same issue date and the same issue price as the existing notes. The existing notes were issued at no more than a de minimis discount from their stated principal amount. As a result, the existing notes were issued without original issue discount (“OID”) and, therefore, the reopened notes offered hereby also will be issued without OID.

Pre-Issuance Accrued Interest on the Reopened Notes

A portion of the purchase price of the reopened notes offered hereby will be attributable to the amount of stated interest accrued prior to the original issue date (“pre-issuance accrued interest”). Consequently, the reopened notes offered hereby should be treated as having been issued for an amount that excludes any pre-issuance accrued interest. If the reopened notes are so treated, a portion of the first interest payment on the reopened notes received by a U.S. Holder after the offering equal to the excluded pre-issuance accrued interest will be treated as a return of such pre-issuance accrued interest and will not be taxable as interest on the reopened notes. Your tax basis in a reopened note should exclude an amount equal to the pre-issuance accrued interest.

Supplemental Information Concerning Plan of Distribution

Reference is made to the “Plan of Distribution” section of 3M Company’s prospectus supplement, dated May 5, 2017, relating to 3M Company’s offering of its Medium-Term Notes, Series F of which the notes offered hereby are a part. The following information supplements such Plan of Distribution:

It is expected that delivery of the notes will be made against payment therefor on or about February 22, 2019, which is the seventh business day following the date of pricing of the notes (this settlement cycle being referred to as “T+7”). Under Rule 15c6-1 of the Exchange Act, trades in the secondary market generally are required to settle in two business days, unless the parties to any such trade expressly agree otherwise. Accordingly, purchasers who wish to trade notes on any date prior to two business days before delivery will be required, by virtue of the fact that the notes initially will settle in T+7, to specify an alternate settlement cycle at the time of any such trade to prevent a failed settlement and should consult their own advisors.

Some of the Agents and their affiliates have engaged in, and may in the future engage in, investment banking and other commercial dealings in the ordinary course of business with 3M Company or 3M Company’s affiliates. They have received, or may in the future receive, customary fees and commissions for these transactions.

The Agents and their respective affiliates are full service financial institutions engaged in various activities, which may include securities trading, commercial and investment banking, financial advisory, investment management, investment research, principal investment, hedging financing and brokerage activities. Certain of the Agents and their respective affiliates have, from time to time, performed, and may in the future perform, various financial advisory and investment banking services for 3M Company or its affiliates, for which they received or will receive customary fees and expenses.

In the ordinary course of their business activities, the Agents and their affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Such investments and securities activities may involve securities and/or instruments of 3M Company or its affiliates. The Agents or their affiliates may have a lending relationship with 3M Company and certain of the Agents or their affiliates routinely hedge, have hedged and are likely in the future to hedge, or may hedge, their credit exposure to 3M Company consistent with their customary risk management policies. Typically, these Agents and their affiliates would hedge such exposure by entering into transactions which consist of either the purchase of credit default swaps or the creation by entering into positions in 3M Company’s securities, including potentially the notes offered hereby. Any such credit default swaps or short positions could adversely affect future trading prices of the notes offered hereby. The Agents and their affiliates may also make investment recommendations and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or financial instruments and may hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long and/or short positions in such securities and instruments.
